WOERDEN, Netherlands (AP) — Two passenger trains collided in dense fog near here today and Netherlands Railways announced that 79 persons perished. It was the worst train disaster in this country's history.

The Dutch news agency reported earlier that 50 persons had been injured. A farmer's wife living near the disaster scene said ambulances had streamed away carrying at least 200 injured to nearby hospitals.

Priests, nuns, firemen, police, soldiers and uninjured passengers helped in rescue work.

Metal workers used acetylene torches to cut into the tangled masses of coaches, which were reported to have carried about 500 passengers.

Fifty doctors toiled over the casualties.

Watch dogs were used to guard piles of luggage.

One of the trains was an express en route from the northern Dutch town of Leeuwarden to Rotterdam. The other was a commuter train headed in the opposite direction from Rotterdam to Amsterdam.

The express was due to reach a switching point at 9:19 a. m. and the commuter train at 9:21. It was in this three-minute interval that they hit. Visibility was about 20 yards.

Most of the victims were reported in the crowded train from Leeuwarden. The express is usually crowded on Monday mornings by people returning to work in the metropolitan area from weekends in the northern residential provinces.

It was unlikely that many foreigners were involved.

The Dutch radio canceled all light programs and it played serious music, interrupted at times by news bulletins on the crash.

Nine coaches were derailed—six from the express and three from the commuter train. One moved down a transformer station as it rolled down an embankment.

The fog was so heavy that persons living near the area were puzzled when they heard the collision.

"We could see nothing in the dense fog," said the farmer's wife, Mrs. Van Oosterom. "We thought at first a plane had crashed, but later we heard from grating and realized that two trains had crashed. Almost immediately afterward, crying people came stumbling toward our farm."

Officials speculated that one of the engineers may have missed a warning signal in the fog.

WOERDEN, Netherlands (AP) — Two jammed passenger trains collided in dense fog near Woerden today and Netherlands Railways announced that 75 persons perished. It was the worst train disaster in this country's history.

The Dutch News Agency reported earlier that 50 persons had been injured but a farmer's wife living near the disaster scene said ambulances had streamed away carrying at least 200 injured to nearby hospitals.

Priests, nuns, firemen, police, soldiers and uninjured passengers helped in rescue work.

The trains carried some 500 passengers, a spokesman for the Dutch railways said.

Belgian Plane Forced Down by Russians

By GARVEN HUDGINS

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — A Belgian Sabena jet airliner, carrying 27 persons from Tehran to Istanbul, landed at a Soviet airfield today after radioing "We are being pursued by Russian planes."

Sabena authorities in Istanbul and in Brussels, the line's headquarters, said the plane was forced by Soviet jets to put down at the city of Yerevan, near the Soviet-Turkish frontier.

However, the line's manager in Tehran, Walter Devros, said a radio compass had failed and the pilot, Cmdr. Freddy Montau, requested permission to make the landing.

By Devros' account, the Soviet craft merely escorted the liner to Yerevan. He said plans are for it to proceed to Istanbul, 850 miles west of Yerevan, as soon as repairs are completed.

The plane carried 19 passengers and eight crew members.

Devros said all were reported safe.

Among the passengers was one American, identified only as a Mr. Howen, flying to Europe from the Far East.

Sabena authorities in Brussels said the Russians had buzzed the airliner and that at least two fighters were involved.

While Devros insisted that the plane landed voluntarily, other airport sources at Tehran, Iran's capital, said they had heard the pilot radioing distress calls.

They reported he radioed Ankara Airport that he was being followed by four Soviet MIGs and, repeating that message three times, then said the MIGs had ordered him to follow them down.

"They are armed and we are not," the pilot was quoted as saying.

Conviction of Go-Kart Man Upheld

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court upheld today the conviction of a Pine Bluff go-kart track operator who was fined $20 on two counts of disturbing the peace.

The operator, W. D. England Jr., contended the case should have been handled as a civil action, rather than as a misdemeanor case.

Several persons who live near the tracks testified that noise from engines of the small cars running there disturbed them. The fines were suspended by Jefferson Circuit Court on the stipulation that England stop the disturbance.

In other cases today, the Supreme Court:

Affirmed a Mississippi Circuit Court decision that Sullivan Chevrolet Corp. of Blytheville and General Motors Corp. are not liable for damages because a seat belt sold by Sullivan broke in an accident.

C. W. Kapp and Mrs. Nancy B. Kapp filed the suit after they were hurt in an Oct. 12, 1957, accident near Amarillo, Tex.

Reversed and dismissed a $1,500 judgment awarded W. M. DeFreece in Independence Circuit Court for injuries suffered while he was helping unload syrup at a bottling plant.

Contract Let for Test Dam at Millwood

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Army Engineers in Tulsa released the information that a contract has been let with a New Orleans firm for construction of a test embankment at the Millwood Dam and Reservoir, south-west Arkansas.

The test embankment will use the same construction methods and equipment as the full scale embankment and materials from the same borrow areas will be used. It will be built in the limits of the final embankment. Thus the test embankment, which will be about 8 feet high by 150 feet long by 50 feet wide, will become part of the permanent embankment at a later date.

The firm, Eustis Engineering Co., has 30 calendar days to do the work, weather permitting.

Late last year contractor's started work on construction of access road and project buildings at Millwood.

The $55.7 million Millwood project, due for completion in 1966, is on Little River, a tributary of Red River. The damsite proper will be located in Little River County, Ark. with the reservoir lying partly in Little River and Sevier Counties.

The 13,100 acre lake at normal pool will have a shoreline perimeter of about 90 miles, which will in a large part, be open to hunting and fishing by the general public.

In 1960 the Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife Department of the Interior, recommended establishment of a national wildlife refuge in connection with the Millwood project, but that recommendation has now been withdrawn.

The Fish and Wildlife Service does not now plan to establish a wildlife refuge at the project.

Camping, boating, swimming and other recreational activities will be permitted and minimum free recreational facilities for the public will be provided by the Corps of Engineers at Millwood.

No Traffic Deaths in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
No traffic deaths were reported in Arkansas over the weekend despite foul weather, snow and hazardous highways.

The only accidental death recorded was in a shooting near Little Rock. John E. Phillips, 73, Negro, of College Station, was killed by a blast from a shotgun as he sat on his bed.

Tennie Norman, 59, Negro, who owns the house in which Phillips lived, told Deputy Sheriff Richard Howard she shot the man after he insulted her, Howard said.

The woman, who is almost blind and walks with the aid of a cane, was held on an open charge. Nine persons died violently in the state last week. Four were killed in traffic accidents, two died in fires, one was accidentally electrocuted and one died as the result of an industrial accident.

Mrs. C. W. Hicks Heads Dimes Drive

Mrs. C. W. Hicks has been named chairman of the Negro Division of the new March of Dimes, it was announced today by Mr. Laura Impson, county drive chairman.

Mrs. Hicks is very active in civic affairs and is a member of Bethel AME Church. She has very efficiently handled the Negro Division of the dimes campaign for about eight years.

Storm Center Moves Into Canada

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The center of the first major storm of the new year moved out of the United States and into Canada today, leaving in its wake a great mass of snow that caused many deaths and widespread destruction.

Temperatures moderated from the sub-zero and zero readings early in the weekend to the teens and 20s. In Minnesota temperatures still hovered around zero in a new snowfall.

Of the death attributed to the weather, Wisconsin had 15 of which 12 died because of over-exertion. New England had six dead.

An enviable contrast to the winter over most of the country was Southern California's heat wave. Thousands swarmed to resorts and beaches as temperatures soared. In the South Bay area of Los Angeles, 15 swimmers were rescued by lifeguards.

The unofficial reading Sunday at Palm Springs and Oasis was 93.

Average Teachers Pay Only $3,614

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Education Association reports that the average teacher in Arkansas receives $3,614 in salary and the state's education pay-scale ranks 49th in the nation.

The NEA report released Saturday noted that per-pupil expenditure in Arkansas is $261.02 annually, ranking the state 46th in that category.

Only Mississippi teachers, who receive an average $3,560 salary, rank below Arkansas.

In Alaska, the nation's newest state, teachers are the highest paid, receiving an average annual salary of $7,300.

The NEA said the average national salary is $1,913 higher than the Arkansas average, or $5,527.

In Chicago, union sources report, the average janitor's salary is only $27 less than the national teacher pay scale.

Kennedy, Clay Agree on All Berlin Strategy

By BARRY SCHWEIB

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says he and Sen. Lucius D. Clay are in full agreement on how to handle effectively any issues in future crisis in Berlin.

The President's statement was issued Sunday after he and Clay, who is Kennedy's personal representative in West Berlin, had talked for an hour at the White House.

Clay came to Washington for talks with the President and Secretary of State Dean Rusk amid reports he believed the U.S. commander in West Berlin, Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, should have greater authority to handle unexpected emergencies.

The statement read to reporters by White House press secretary Pierre Salinger after Sunday's Kennedy-Clay meeting apparently sought to dispel any idea of a deep rift within the administration over the handling of any future emergencies in Berlin.

The statement by the chief executive said:

"General Clay and I have had a most useful and satisfactory review of the current situation in Berlin and Germany. I have been very glad to get his report of the continuing staunchness of the people of West Berlin and we have talked at length about the ways and means of sustaining and strengthening the life of their great city in the future as in the past."

"We have also reviewed the general problem of effective handling of possible crisis situations and we have reached full agreement on the policy to be followed during these months."

Reds Return Molotov to Party Post

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — Ex-Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, denounced as a Stalinist by the latest Communist party congress, is returning to his atom for peace post in Vienna, the Foreign office announced today.

The announcement startled the diplomatic colony in the Soviet capital and led to speculation that Stalin's old lieutenant may have won his battle against expulsion from the party.

One of the leaders of the futile purge against Premier Khrushchev in 1957, Molotov at 71 was seen headed for oblivion after his recall in November from his job as head of the Soviet delegation to the International Atomic Energy Agency.

Molotov and other prominent figures under Stalin were on trial by the party, and expulsion generally had been expected. He was never seen in public after his return Nov. 12 and the press continued to denounce him.

Khrushchev was asked about Molotov only two weeks ago and told reporters the party machinery was dealing with the case.

A Foreign Office spokesman said he knew nothing of the status

TAP Adult Advisor Is Named

Chief Jack Brown

Youthful vigor was added to the 1962 New March of Dimes in Hempstead County today as Millie Flowers and Cookie Jones, both students at Hope High School, were named chairmen of the Teen-Age Program (TAP) of the January Campaign.

Police Chief, Jack Brown, was appointed TAP Advisor. Among Mr. Brown's responsibilities, he will act as a liaison between Chapter and TAPs. He, TAP Chairmen, and Chapter Chairman, will work closely together to coordinate TAP program with Chapter program. He will make sure that group plans and procedures are sound in relation to fund raising, religion, health and safety.

The appointments were announced by Mrs. Laura Impson, campaign director. The new TAP chairman agreed that teenagers in Hempstead County had always played a key role in the March of Dimes.

"Teenagers have had a large stake in The National Foundation's effort to wipe out paralytic polio—a disease that hits hard at young people," Mrs. Impson said.

"Now we are fighting two other diseases that offer even greater challenges — birth defects and arthritis."

"Approximately 250,000 American children are born with significant birth defects each year. Arthritis and rheumatic disease attack 11,000,000 Americans. Of that number 30,000 teenagers and children are victims of juvenile rheumatoid arthritis and 16,000 require medical care each year."

The new chairman said that another of the major interests of the New March of Dimes teen-age volunteers is the Health Scholarship Program financed by The National Foundation. Through this program students are trained in nursing, medical social work, medicine and occupational and physical therapy.

Mr. Brown said teen-age volunteers would take part in a number of major activities during the campaign which will be held January 2-31.

Among the TAP activities, the Teens will hold a Rainbow Crucifixion, work one day wiping windshield at service stations, sponsor a day-walking day down town, and others.

Farm Bureau Board Meets January 9

The Hempstead County Farm Bureau Board of Directors will meet at 7 p. m. Tuesday, Jan. 9, according to Warren Butler, president. The meeting will be held at the Diamond Cafe. Plans will be made for the annual membership drive which will be held during the first part of February. The board will select township captains for each of the townships in Hempstead county.

The new officers for the Hempstead County Farm Bureau are as follows: Warren Butler, president; Audrey Wilson, vice president; Bob Hoffman, treasurer; N. B. Coleman, secretary; Dale Ravencraft, alternate secretary.

Mrs. Emma Thomas of Hope won the "early bird" contest. The 6 transistor radio prize was awarded to the winner from a group that paid membership dues during the month of November.

B. C. Webb of Columbus was the deer prize winner at the annual convention, which was an electric blanket.

Stable Dollar Aim of Fund by Non-Reds

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 10-power agreement to bolster the stability of the dollar and other non-Communist nations through a $6-billion currency pool was announced today by the International Monetary Fund.

Subject to ratification by Congress and the other parliaments, the pool will give the IMF a huge reserve from which any of the 10 nations may draw to meet temporary and unusual drains on the dollar.

Justice Jim Johnson dissented. Justice Ed McFadden agreed on the reversal, but dissented with the order permitting drilling of test holes.

The Circuit Court judgment was one of the largest ever issued against the Highway Department in a land condemnation case.

New Trial Ordered in Land Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court ordered a new trial today in a Saline County land condemnation suit in which the Arkansas Highway Department was ordered to pay $150,000 for 18 acres.

The Supreme Court, in a 5-1 decision, held that Saline Circuit Judge Henry B. Means should have permitted Highway Department personnel to drill test holes on property surrounding the tract in question to determine the value of sand and gravel deposits there.

The Highway Department had contended there was no competent evidence to back up the size of the award or land which it valued at about $3,600.

Troubled Spots of World Aired by Officials

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy canvassed world trouble spots with congressional leaders of both parties at a two-hour, White House conference today.

Republicans and Democrats who came out of a breakfast meeting held in the Cabinet room said there was a full discussion of international affairs.

The President turned over to Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, the task of bringing the leaders up to date on world developments in their field.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, said the briefing touched on all of the trouble spots in the world.

He said there was no discussion of domestic issues, except for mention of the President's intention to ask for broad authority to negotiate tariffs.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate GOP leader, said that there was only broad discussion of international problems and very little questioning from the Congress members.

Kennedy has scheduled a breakfast meeting Tuesday with Democratic leaders of the Senate and House at which time he is expected to go into details about his legislative program.

Saltonstall said the President made no request for bipartisan support of his forthcoming program but limited his discussion today primarily to international matters.

Algerians on Strike, Cities Are Crippled

ALGIERS (AP) — A show of strength strike called by the rightist underground army of French settlers fighting Algerian independence crippled Algiers and Oran today.

Crowds streamed into the streets of Algiers' two largest cities in response to a call from the Secret Army for a two-hour general strike.

The Secret Army pegged the call for the strike to support a protest by hospital personnel who object to increased police control over their activities. French officials have charged some hospital staffs with being accomplices of the underground. A number of right wing extremists taken to hospitals for treatment after being arrested have escaped.

Rebel government leaders met in neighboring Morocco for talks on the prospects for making peace with French President Charles de Gaulle.

Members of the exile government indicated they have gone as far as they will toward a compromise. One leader told newsmen: "Our aims have not changed. We are not waiting for a messenger from France, we are waiting for concrete moves."

High nationalist sources said earlier there are "definite chances of peace" but one minister cautioned reporters not to expect a cease-fire soon.

Oakhaven-Hope Sewer Ruling

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The attorney general's office held today that a 1947 law gives the city of Hope jurisdiction over sewage disposal in the nearby incorporated town of Oakhaven.

The opinion went to M. L. Woods, director of the Arkansas Water Pollution Control Commission, who said establishments of Hope's jurisdiction was needed in connection with attempts to obtain a federal grant.

The 1947 law gives any city authority over sewage disposal within 10 miles of the city limits.

Sources Say Laos Princes to Meet Again

By RENE GEORGES INAGAKI
VIENNA, Laos (AP) — U.S. and other diplomatic sources said today they expect Premier Prince Boun Oum to accept an invitation to meet again with Laos' two other political princes in Geneva.

The rightist premier met with his Cabinet to consider the invitation from the 14-nation Geneva conference, which is trying to neutralize the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Information Minister Bouavan
Norasing told newsmen no decision on the invitation was taken and another Cabinet meeting will be held Tuesday.

Boun Oum and seven of his Cabinet flew to the royal capital of Luang Prabang to confer with King Savang Vathana.

Boun Oum must get approval to leave the country from King Sa-vang Vathana. Informed Lao sources said there was some doubt he would authorize the trip.

The king is a known critic of the Geneva conference.

Britain and the Soviet Union, as co-chairmen of the conference, called on Boun Oum, neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma and pro-Communist Prince Souphavong to make another attempt to work out the distribution of posts in a coalition government.

The United States joined in the appeal, which warned the princes that their failure to form a coalition government would wreck the conference's efforts to bring peace to Laos.

Though hopes were high for another meeting of the princes, there was little optimism among diplomatic circles that anything would come of it.

Some International Control Commission officials here fear that if this new attempt fails, there will be a resumption of fighting. The countryside is now dry and the ground firm after the rainy season.

American diplomats here do not share this anxiety, holding the view that neither the Soviet Union nor the United States wants fighting in Laos that could explode into an East-West war.

Freight Reduction Effective Wed.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Eight Arkansas cities are expected to benefit Wednesday when a railroad freight rate reduction goes into effect in Arkansas.

The Arkansas Industrial Development Commission said Saturday the reduction, ranging from 25-41 cents per 100 pounds, would be effective for shipments of electrical motors, transformers and electrical parts from Arkansas throughout the United States.

The AIDC said an agreement was reached with railroads to publish the same rate scales in Arkansas as are now done in Mississippi and other areas.

Cities affected are Paragould,
Jonesboro, Fort Smith, Forrest
City, Bald Knob, Little Rock, Pine Bluff and Blytheville.

Sheriffs to Open a 3-Day Meet

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Sheriffs Association opens its three-day meeting here Tuesday. Gov. Jimmy Davis of Louisiana will be principal speaker
Wednesday night.

Among items on the group's agenda is a proposed statewide teletype system which is expected to meet approval.

New officers will be elected prior to Thursday's adjournment.

Arkansas Woman Held in Texas

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — Patsy Ann
Chamberlain, 38, of El Dorado, Ark., was free on $500 bond after being charged with second degree negligent homicide in the death
Saturday of Mrs. Stella Murphy, 66, who was killed when struck by a car. Dist. Atty. Weldon Holcomb said the El Dorado woman, at the time of the accident, was free on bond on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Mrs. Bridges to Seek Seat in Congress

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cheered on by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., Doloris Bridges is preparing to bid in New Hampshire to become the third woman member of the Senate.

The widow of Sen. Styles
Bridges, chairman of the Republican Policy Committee and long a power in the Senate, has indicated to friends she will get into a topsy-turvy contest for the GOP nomination to fill out the four remaining years of his term.

This seems likely to pit the attractive Mrs. Bridges against Sen.
Maurice J. Murphy Jr., appointed by GOP Gov. Wesley Powell to fill the vacancy until the November election. Several other Republicans might enter the race.

If Mrs. Bridges should win the nomination and election in a state that ordinarily has Republican majorities, she would take her place in the Senate along with Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-
Maine, and Sen. Maurine Neuberger, D-Ore., who won election to succeed her late husband.

Powell's appointment of Murphy, 34, state attorney general and the governor's political protege, provoked a protest from Goldwater.

Goldwater, a spokesman for Republican conservatives and chairman of the party's senatorial campaign committee, criticized Powell's action in a letter to Manchester, N.H., publisher William Loeb.

The Arizona senator said he had no question that Murphy was capable and of the highest character "but certainly we expected as a matter of loyalty and respect, that Doloris Bridges would receive this appointment."

Powell fired back that Goldwater, who maintained close liaison with Bridges, had no business interfering in a gubernatorial decision. He reminded Goldwater that, by tradition, campaign committee chairmen keep out of primary contests.

Rowan to Speak

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Carl T.
Rowan, Negro U.S. deputy assistant secretary of state for public affairs, will speak at a meeting sponsored by the Arkansas Council on Human Relations at Phil-berger, D-Ore., who won election

"I'll tell you what difference it makes! When I came to Mirimar a dozen years ago servants were glad to work at any price, just so they could be sure of a couple of meals a day. Maids stood with their hands at sides while you cheered 'em out. Gardeners jerked their caps off when you talked to 'em. They got an afternoon off every two weeks. No nonsense about Sundays and holy days.

Now every time some Saint or other has a birthday, half the maids in the village are off paradading around with lipstick on and flowers in their hair. My maid—get this—my maid wants me to buy her nylons in Gibraltar! Do you know why these things are happening? Because we've lost their respect! That Englishman is hurting us. He's integrating, that's what."

"Polly, what you're talking about has nothing to do with whether Spaniards respect us or not. It's just economic evolution.
The 100 peseta maids are gone forever."

"Don't lecture me about economics. Three of my husbands tried and couldn't make a dent on me."

"I've told Dennis he's wasting his time. What more can I do?"
Polly smiled craftily and tapped me on the knee. "He's got too much pep." She gave me a broad, grinning wink. "Know what I mean?"

"Vaguely."

"He needs a girl." She laughed softly, teased and tickled by the feathery excitement of intrigue.
"A nice sweet, wholesome loving creature who'll drain off that extra juice and leave him dry as an old boot." She waved an arm languorously about her head.

"Forty years ago I'd have volunteered for the job."

"Well, who do you have in mind then?"

"It doesn't matter. Someone pretty and clever."

"Cut it out. What's a constrictor have you lined up?"

"Well, Millie Gunn's back from Paris." She wagged her foot about casually. "I'm having a party tonight. Would you ask Dennis to come?"

"Okay, I'll tell him," I said,
"but I don't believe for a moment you're worried about what he's doing to the social tone of the community. Who put you up to this?"

"John! I'm an old woman. I don't like to be spoken to rudely."
I suddenly had it. "The Mar-quesa! Did she send you here?"

"How could she? She's in Madrid. Stop being mean and suspicious." Polly suddenly threw her head back and let out a roar of laughter. "Did you hear why Baby had to go to Madrid?" Polly wiped her eyes and said "Well, Baby gave a great fancy party the other night. Awfully stiff and proper. Lord Smiley was there, and an Earl Somebody-or-other from Gibraltar, and General Hoots and his wife—he's our big noise in Seville. Anyway, flying around the villa and sticking her nose into everything, she naturally got into a fight with one of her maids. The upshot of it was that the girl quit." Polly shrieked with laughter again, pounding the arm of her chair and gasping helplessly for breath. "The maid—silly little ingrate—wired the dining room table to the buzzer that Baby uses to signal the kitchen. Don't ask me how! And when Baby pressed the buzzer to have the soup plates taken out, everybody got the shock of their lives. General Hoots' wife fainted dead away, and Lord Smiley's false teeth popped into the centerpiece of flowers." Polly beat helplessly on the arm of her chair. "John, think of it! The Earl from Gibratar screaming and dumping his glass of wine down the front of Baby's dress. They couldn't find Smiley's teeth and the men got into a fight trying to undo the wires. Baby was so sick and miserable that Francesca offered to drive her up to Madrid the next day."

Chapter XIII

The next morning Polly Soames, the American widow, came up to talk to me about Dennis. First she covered all the current gossip while draining off a large gin-and-tonic.

She was wearing a purple sari that morning to match her purple hair, I think, and the color clashed ringingly with her flushed cheeks and brilliant green eyes.
With her fine beak of a nose and cracked, strident voice, she reminded me of a tough, contentious old parrot who had got its lip into the rum bottle.

"Now, John, listen to me," she said. "We've got to stop that fool Englishman. You're chummy with him; that's why I'm here. He's got to stop working on that road."

"Aren't you making a big fuss over nothing? What difference does it make, one way or the other?"

1,769 Cases of Measles in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A total of 1,769 cases of measles were reported in Arkansas during 1961, the state Board of Health says.
There were 101 cases reported during the week ending Dec. 23 while the final week of 1961 showed only 31 cases.

Man Kills Self After a Shooting

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) —
Eugene Blalock, 22, of Forrest City, shot and killed himself after wounding his stepfather following an argument near here Saturday, officers said. Sheriff
Carl Campbell said Willie Banks, 60, was critically wounded when he attempted to intervene in an argument between Blalock and his mother.

Sled Is Fatal

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —
Richard Norwood Jr., 9, of Fayetteville, was injured on Sunday when his sled collided with a car driven by Billy Hayne, 24, of Fayetteville, police said. Officers reported the boy rounded a snowy corner on his sled and met the car head-on.

Conway Man Dies at Age of 66

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Cole Horton, 66, of Conway, died at his home Saturday. He retired last year after 40 years as an electrical contractor. He was a member of a pioneer Conway family. Survivors include his wife and a brother, Benjamin Hayton of Russellville, registrar at Arkansas Tech.

Storm Center

In the San Fernando Valley it was 96.

Los Angeles had a record 86 degrees—the warmest Jan. 7 in 59 years.

Warm weather and rain sent rivers over their banks in western Washington State. Heavy, wet snow fell over northeastern Washington, causing some damage to property and utility lines.

Between 2 and 6 inches of new snow fell over parts of Montana, Wyoming and Colorado, but temperatures ranged mostly in the 20s. Snowslides caused some trouble in the Colorado mountains and in Utah.

Icy roads remained a problem in Indiana, Illinois and Iowa. The three states lay in the path of a weekend storm that dumped up to 14 inches of snow. Some sections had drifts up to three feet. In the east, tornado-like winds, heavy rain and sleet caused wide damage and several deaths. Power failures and telephone service cuts were reported in several areas in New York State.

Netherlands

Fifty doctors were reported working at the wreck scene.

The trains collided on the track between Utrecht and Rotterdam. One train was en route from Rotterdam to Amsterdam, the other from Leeuwarden, in North Holland to Rotterdam.

"At a quarter past nine we heard an enormous bang," said the farmer's wife, Mrs. Van Oosterom. "We could see nothing in the dense fog. First we thought a plane had crashed but later we heard iron grating and realized that two trains had crashed at the nearby shunt of the tracks to Utrecht and Amsterdam."

"Almost immediately afterward crying people came stumbling from the Breudijk embankment toward our farm."

Mrs. De Groot, another farmer's wife, said that when she arrived some 10 minutes after the crash, bodies were scattered at the foot of the embankment.

The dead were carried away in buses. Officials at the spot speculated that in the dense fog one of the engine drivers may not have noticed an "unsafe" signal.

Three coaches of the train coming from Rotterdam were derailed and six coaches of the other express.

The worst previous Dutch train wreck was in 1918 when 38 persons were killed at Weesp, 12 miles east of Amsterdam.

Stabile Dollar

their gold and foreign exchange reserves.

The United States was the foremost sponsor of the plan and would be a major beneficiary if the dollar should again come under such speculative attack as took place in 1960.

The agreement calls on the 10 participating nations to pledge to the IMF—but not to put up in cash until and unless some of the funds are needed—these amounts in dollars:

United States, two billion; Britain, one billion; Germany one billion; France, 550 million; Italy, 550 million; Japan, 250 million; Canada, 200 million; Netherlands, 200 million; Belgium, 150 million; Sweden, 100 million.

The agreement represents the third and next to the last step in a plan to provide, through the IMF, international borrowing arrangements which—in IMF's words—"should make it possible to mobilize quickly large additional resources in defense of the international monetary system."

The U.S. Treasury, in a simultaneous announcement, said: "The borrowing arrangement could be of great assistance to the United States, as well as to any of the other participating countries, in meeting temporary balance-of-payment difficulties."

The final step will come when at least seven of the countries, whose pledges total not less than $5.5 billion, notify the IMF of their adherence to the pact. The supplemental fund then will be ready for use.

If one of the countries finds itself in payment difficulties which cannot be handled through the usual IMF procedures, the fund will borrow the needed currencies from members of the new pool. IMF then would re-lend the money to the country in trouble.

The terms and conditions announced today contain no provision for a veto by any single country on the use of its currency. Officials here had worried for a time that France might insist on such a provision.

Although nothing like a veto appears, the agreement seems to contain ample assurance that a country would be obliged to lend its currency if the loan would threaten financial difficulties for the lender.

Although the IMF already has available nearly $3 billion in its gold account and $6.5 billion in the currencies of major industrial countries, it was explained some of these funds might not be available if one or more of the nations were undergoing balance-of-payments difficulties. The new pool makes additional resources available for emergency use.

New Handbook on Fallout

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government hopes to have a new official handbook on nuclear weapons effects ready for issue in April, it was learned today.

The volume on effects of blast heat, radiation and fallout has been in preparation for about a year.

Jumps to Death

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Joe Leon Thomas, 26, a mental patient being taken back to the State Hospital after a furlough, jumped from his father's car here Sunday and died by his death off an Arkansas River bridge, police said. His father, Clarence Thomas of Walnut Ridge, gave chase but couldn't stop his son from jumping. The body was recovered.

DOROTHY DIX
To Which Child Should She Leave Her Fortune? Dying Mother Asks

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I am in the last stages of a fatal disease. During my busy lifetime I amassed a fortune by hard work. I'm left with an adopted daughter whom I dearly love and a child of my own flesh and blood whom I hate.

The adopted daughter is sweet-natured, personified, lives for me alone and is utterly indifferent to my money. Again and again she has begged me to spend every cent of it on myself, trying to get well.

My own daughter quibbles at medical bills which I pay and is forever slyly trying to persuade me to write my will in her favor. She'll drop in, ostensibly to see how I am but really to whine about her troubles.

Her eyes tell more than words that she wants but one thing—my money. Since I scrimp and saved and sacrificed health and spirit to get that money, I feel it should go to the one who deserves it and will appreciate it. Will people laugh and say wrong things about me if I leave this fortune to my dearly beloved adopted daughter?

—Money Trouble
Dear Money Trouble: Do what your heart dictates. This is your money. Gossips will gossip any way. However, it would be prudent to leave a token sum to your natural daughter and thus thwart attempts to break your will. Ask your lawyer to have it recorded and make sure he knows exactly what you want. But don't count yourself out yet. Take your adopted daughter's advice. Miracles have happened before and fresh discoveries in medical science are being made every day.

Dear Helen: Two years ago, while vacationing in a city some 800 miles distant, I met a boy who, until recently, has been like a member of our family. He would come visit us, then my parents, sister and myself, would go to his city for a holiday. We all had such good times that we planned to make his city our permanent home. When I wrote him the news he was delighted.

Now my parents have changed their minds and decided to remain here. I am so unhappy over the switch that I haven't had the heart to write the boy friend. To make matters worse he has not written me in a month. Previously, he often said he loved me.

Would it be proper for me to move to his city even though my parents do not? This would be a serious step for I shall be leaving family, friends and relatives and going to a place where the only people I know will be this boy and his family. I date other boys here and have a good time. Should I go or stay home and be content with writing the boy friend? We are both just 21. —Undecided

Dear Undecided: By moving to the other city you are giving up a lot for what, at best, is an uncertainty. Since this boy has not seen fit to write in a month how do you know he still loves you? And even if he does, it is he—not you—who should make the initial move. Drop him a friendly line telling of your change in plans, then await developments.

Dear Helen: Last summer I met a girl of whom I think a lot. When we'd been out a couple of times she told me she was going steady with another boy, but hadn't mentioned it before because she didn't "Molotov has never been removed from his post on the atomic energy agency and has now returned to it," he said.

The spokesman said Molotov left Saturday. That would mean he should arrive in Vienna some time today, traveling by train.

The Austrian Embassy said Molotov had not applied for an Austrian visa but that one issued in Vienna might still be valid.

It was the first time that anything like this had happened in the Soviet Union. Normally when a Soviet leader has been faced with such serious accusations he is not allowed to leave the country.

Diplomats and others had expected Molotov and other associates to you for advice. —A.P.

Dear A.P.: If you are serious about this girl, bow out until she makes up her mind. Otherwise you will be the one who is tortured. If she really cared for you, she'd drop the other boy. Be on guard against becoming too deeply involved with an indecisive person. Such a type complicates life for everybody, including herself.

Affirmed a White Circuit Court ruling that the Service Life Insurance Co. is liable for hospitalization expenses incurred by Bobby L. Hamm after July 17, 1959, although the company tried to cancel a hospitalization policy before that date.

The high court held that Hamm's hospitalization resulted from injuries sustained in an auto accident March 20, 1959 and there was no doubt he was covered by the policy on that date.

Army Bigwigs to Visit Chaffee

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr and Army Chief of Staff Gen. George M. Decker will visit nearby Fort Chaffee this week. Decker will arrive Tuesday to inspect the training of reserve and National Guard units. Stahr will arrive Wednesday to inspect the training activities and facilities.

ates would suffer degradation after the attack in the party congress last October.

Molotov had attempted to fight back against the charges by sending a letter to members of the Central Committee just before the congress opened last Oct. 15. The letter was not published in full although extracts were read.

But speaker after speaker at the congress accused him and his confederates of responsibility for hundreds of deaths among the thousands of army and party leaders caught in Stalin's purges. The purges began in the 1930s and continued through and after World War II.

After his denunciation at the party congress, Molotov and two other former Soviet leaders were ordered put on trial before the party for leading the anti-party group against Khrushchev in 1957.

The other two were ex-Premier Georgi Malenkov and ex-Deputy Premier Lazar Kaganovich.

Shroeder, owner of a Fort Smith hotel. A new trial was ordered.

The Supreme Court said total judge should have declared a mistrial because certain facts prejudicial to Shroeder were heard by the jury even though the judge instructed the jury to disregard the facts.

In the suit, Billy Wayne Johnson was awarded $300, Mary Imogene Johnson $2,230, T. J. Johnson $790 and Alrene Johnson $2,853 for injuries suffered in an accident involving Shroeder's car. Reversed and remanded a Faulkner County case involving land rented by Joe F. Shuffield and Ralph J. Harrell from the late B. M. Harlon.

The Supreme Court differed with Chancellor George O. Patterson's ruling that concerning liabilities of Shuffield and Harrell for rent on land they cleared under the rental contract.

Yerger Takes 2 of 3 From Malvern

By VINCE FOSTER

Hope took two important conference wins over Malvern here Saturday night, as the Bobcats open the district 4AA season by whipping the Panthers 54-42, and the Juniors pulled out a 38-36 thriller in three overtimes.

The Bobcats easily chalked up a 14-9 lead in the first quarter, and stretched it to 30-23 at the half with Jeffery Powell taking 12 in the first half. The big quarter was the third with Hope stacking 19 points to the visitors' 6. Although Malvern outscored Hope 13-5 in the final period, this was not enough so Hope took their first conference victory, giving them a 8-3 record.

Jeffery Powell was high point for the Cats with 16, followed closely by Halfield with 13 and Murphy with 12. Jackie Russell sank 8, while Porterfield and Walker took 2 each, and Roberts had 1. Jameson and Bryant had 11 each for Malvern.

The Bobkittens blew a 10 point third quarter lead and just barely pulled out a victory in a triple overtime. Tied 6-6 in the first quarter, Hope eased out front 15 at the half. A big third quarter put them ahead 29-19, but they blew this at the buzzer it was all tied up 32-32. In the first overtime Buddy Jordan put Hope out front 34-32 with a pair of free throws, but a late Malvern score sent this game into its second overtime. Playing without Willis, McNair, Jordan, and Burnett four of the five Hope starters who fouled out Hope went scoreless in this overtime as did the visitors. With almost all of its second team, the Kittens had no scoring threats. However early in the third overtime, Paul Guerin hit a jump to put the Kittens out front. Malvern sank two free throws to tie it up again, but Guerin scored in the final seconds to give the undefeated Kittens their fifth victory.

Burnett led the Kittens with 14, followed by Jordan with 7, McNair with 6, Guerin and Ingram with 4 each, and Willis with three.

A very small and disappointing number of fans were on hand Saturday's important contests. These Hope teams are both defending district champions and it looks like they may take it again this year, but only with better support than they had Saturday. The Cats and Kittens travel to Smackover next Friday for two district bouts, and then return home to play Camden here Saturday night in another 4AA contest. Back these teams if you have any pride in them.

Little Rock Schools Top of Big Nine

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Little Rock Central and Little Rock Hall remain deadlocked in first place in the Big Nine Conference basketball race, but things may change this week in view of Central's demanding schedule.

The Tigers play host to Hot Springs Tuesday afternoon, then visit Texarkana Friday night. Neither of those teams are contenders for the lead, but both have good upset potential.

Texarkana upset defending champion Blytheville 39-37 last week and Hot Springs beat a good Benton team, 54-41.

Hall gets a non-conference game with Conway Tuesday night, then plays Fort Smith Friday night. Fort Smith took a 53-43 beating from North Little Rock last week and will try to bounce back in a non-league game with Van Buren Tuesday night.

Central and Hall have 3-0 league records. Blytheville ranks third with a 5-2 chart. The Chicks meet up-and-coming North Little Rock in Blytheville Tuesday night, then play Greene County Tech in Blytheville Friday night in a non-league game.

Central seems to be living on borrowed time as far as its perfect conference record is concerned. The Tigers have won six straight games by one or two points or in overtime. Yet, some say that's the mark of a good team—that it can win the close ones.

The Tigers beat Pine Bluff 50-48 last week in their only outing. North Little Rock (2-1) and Pine Bluff (2-2) two darkhorses in the conference race, meet Friday night in North Little Rock in what may prove the week's best game.

During 1958, 44 coal mines were operated in Johnson, Sebastian, Logan, Frank and Pope Counties.

Almost all of the natural gas produced in Arkansas is known as "wet" gas.

Last six. The Nats outscored the Knicks 31-23 in the final period for the victory.

Roundup of Post Season Grid Games

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's not very often that the professional football world misses a good prospect, but maybe they would do well today to re-examine the case of Gale Hall.

Hall, a budding senior at Penn State, stands only 5-foot-9 and weighs 190. Standing behind a mountainous pro line, or facing a problem for a man of his dimension, so no one in either the American or National Football League drafted him.

Size meant nothing Sunday when Hall passed for three touchdowns in leading a group of the NFL's Western Conference draftees to a 33-19 victory over some chosen by the Eastern Conference in the U.S. bowl.

The pros made no mistakes in picking Kansas' John Hadl or Ohio State's All-American fullback Bob Ferguson. Hadl passed for his team's only touchdown as a group of West All-Stars played a team of East All-Stars to a 7-7 tie in Honolulu. Ferguson's spectacular 72-yard run got the East's only score.

The AFL's Western Division stars won that long's first Pro Bowl, trouncing the Eastern Division 47-27 behind the passing of quarterback Cotton Davidson of the Dallas Cowboys, and the running of Alvin Haynes, his Texas teammate.

Hall, who led Penn State to a Gator Bowl victory over Georgia Tech, passed 44 yards to Bobby Lee Thompson of Arizona, 16 to Steve Stricker of Detroit and 4 to Boston U's Karl Kauer. He completed 21 of 49 passes for 338 yards, more than the East was able to gain overall.

Navy's Greg Mather, a low draft choice of the New York Giants, kicked field goals of 40 and 41 yards for the losers. Leroy Jackson of Southern Illinois and Bobby Jackson of New Mexico State also scored for the East.

Miami's Jim Vollenweider also talked twice for the West, once on a 2-yard plunge and on a fumble recovery in the end zone when Thompson fumbled Hall's pass for an apparent TD.

After the day's only touchdowns were scored within a 24-minute span of the first period in Honolulu, sloppy play became the order of the day. A total of 10 passes were intercepted, three on quarterback Roman Gabriel of the East.

Hadl's TD pass came off a fake field goal by UCLA's Bobby Smith, and three plays later Ferguson ran for the East's score. Lance Alworth, like Hadl heading for San Diego of the AFL, was chosen the game's most valuable back.

Davidson came off the bench and threw three touchdown passes for coach Sid Gillman's All-Stars, and Haynes ran for two more, one of 66 yards. George Blanda threw a pair of TD passes for the East stars and New York's Al Dorow added another.

Dietzel Takes Along Two State Men

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Paul Dietzel is a man with a mission and he is eager to get started.

The 37-year-old Ohioan gave up the promise of continued success and security at Louisiana State University to accept the challenge of the job he always has wanted—head football coach at Army.

There is little doubt the broad-shouldered young coach is approaching this new job with zeal and confidence, touched with considerable boyish enthusiasm.

At LSU, Dietzel left a wealth of talent, a lucrative job and some bitter feelings. His $18,500-a-year contract still had four years to run and more was offered. When reports cropped up he wanted out, there was vehement criticism. After much sound and fury, the LSU Board of Supervisors granted his release in a meeting Friday. His salary at Army presumably will be $19,500, with a 5-year contract.

In seven seasons at LSU, Dietzel's Tiger teams won 44, lost 23, tied 3 and had a 2-1 mark in bowl games. His 1958 squad was national champion with a 10-0 record and he was Coach of the Year. LSU was 9-1 in 1959 and again this past season, and his finale with the Tigers was their 25-7 victory over Colorado in the Orange Bowl New Year's Day.

At Army, Dietzel succeeds Dale Hall, who was dismissed after three seasons on Dec. 9. In three tries, Hall's teams failed to beat Navy—and Navy's recent superiority has rankled Army deeply.

"We decided we wanted the best man available, and we're sure got him," said Col. Emory Adams, the academy's athletic director.

Dietzel said he plans to use the same 3-3-3 system of Army that he developed at LSU. "It doesn't take as much depth as you'd think. Mostly organization and work."

Here's an 1894 Hope Daily Paper of Which Local Historians Have No Other Record

The Evening Reporter.

Vol. 1 Hope, Ark., Wednesday Evening November 7, 1894 No. 183.

LOCAL TREASURER KOHNEN.

Gold Richardson told the County Seal of Boone.

The following sensational story from the Harrison Times of Saturday:

This morning W. A. Watkins, county clerk and J. M. Seitz, deputy sheriff, on their way into court house, discovered a key.

The square key, found from the court house, was picked up by the clerk. "What is it?" he asked the deputy.

"This is a key," he answered. "It was found in the pocket of a man who was arrested last night."

The clerk and the deputy went to the court house and heard deep groans coming from the treasurer's office.

They unlocked the door and found C. E. Aycock, county treasurer, lying on the floor, his hands and feet tied with pocket handkerchiefs.

He had been in the office for a month and another bandaged over his face. They asked him what was the matter and whether he was hurt.

He could hardly talk and was still from the cold, but said that his head was hurting him. He was able to make a brief statement.

As he was returning home about 9 o'clock, having just returned from Lead Hill, he was intercepted by two men, one a large and the other a small man.

They were their captives over their faces and their features were concealed. He was compelled to face of two men pointed at him to return to the court house.

and upon the safe, which they looted. Then they backed and gagged him, leaving him where he was found, and went away.

Receiving to say something about the money was in the vault, the treasurer keeps his funds in the bank. A $5 bill was found in the floor. Mr. Aycock's home, where he is now.

It is not a very good authority, but anyway we heard it, that a certain young man, who flies high up in Hope society was soon going to place his neck in the yoke of matrimony, and spend the remainder of his years on this globe with an admirable helpmate to help him haul an enormous load of bliss into eternity. I wish him success.

Some of Hope's sweetest girls are determined to be—well, I don't know what it is—but anyway they are not behind the times. I am going to say something about their hair changing its color so fast. Only a week or two ago their hair was all right, and this week we see that some of them have appeared on the streets at

Mice and Otherwise.

This is a hard old world for the chronic kickers and grumblers. One of them was seen the other day standing in front of the Postoffice about 6 o'clock p.m., cursing because our efficient Mr. Powell had closed and gone to supper.

When asked what he wanted with him he said he wanted to get a letter off on the 7 o'clock train that he had a letter in his pocket that he had been carrying for his daughter.

Until he had almost wore it out, and that now, since he had concluded to mail it the postmaster was gone.

A man with a little red bundle walked into the Postoffice recently, we are told, and said to Mr. Powell: "Is there or litter here?"

Postmaster: "Yes. What is your name?" "Faith and his fathers, I was at the opinion that my name was on the litter," was the stranger's reply.

It is not a very good authority, but anyway we heard it, that a certain young man, who flies high up in Hope society was soon going to place his neck in the yoke of matrimony, and spend the remainder of his years on this globe with an admirable helpmate to help him haul an enormous load of bliss into eternity. I wish him success.

Some of Hope's sweetest girls are determined to be—well, I don't know what it is—but anyway they are not behind the times. I am going to say something about their hair changing its color so fast. Only a week or two ago their hair was all right, and this week we see that some of them have appeared on the streets at most to disguise, since the color of their hair is wonderfully changed. But though they are still awful beautiful, and this little violation of a little law of nature will probably not injure them, as other things they could do would.

The Reporter force was well represented at the Show Saturday night. I am told that they all had two "goats," apiece, and a "gal" for the extra "comp." One of the gang was so "green" that he didn't know where the entrance was and he saw the marshal standing over where he thought the door was, and escorted his lady up to the marshal and commended him to stand aside, and the show man kindly pointed out the way for the type. Oh, I was there, and it is an undisputed fact.

Yesterday was election day, and there was quite of the dryest looking men on the streets I have ever seen. There was lawyers, doctors, preachers, clerics, bankers and church deacons all looking as dry as a powder-house, and I was about to ask some one what ailed all these professional men, but the matter was settled in our mind, (as I was a little dry myself), when I started into a saloon to see a gentleman on professional business, and found I was locked out. I knocked, but the door was not opened unto me. The man at the door asked me if I could give the countersign, and I tried to show him my nose, but he wouldn't look at that—probably he thought it was Marshal Norwood's club.

Alpha Bet.

The ticket for the farmers reads as follows: For Cotton Weigher, S. J. WIGGINS.

We the farmers have nominated Mr. S. J. Wiggins as cotton weigher for the Hope township, he pledging himself to weigh for 10 cents a bale.

In its June 10, 1955 edition celebrating the new Star building, completed that year Hope Star printed a history which was supposed to have included all the names of the principal papers founded since Hope became a town in 1873.

But last week a letter from St. Charles, Mo., corrected local history with new and indisputable evidence. The writer was Thomas (Pud) Knobel, Jr., old Hope citizen, former city engineer of St.

Louis, who now lives at 1048 Jefferson, St. Charles — the son of Thomas Knobel who witnessed the birth of Hope in 1873 when he came through here as surveyor for the old Cairo & Fulton Railway, now the Missouri Pacific.

Mr. Knobel Jr., sent his letter to Roy Anderson, along with a copy of the previously-unknown Evening Reporter — and Mr. Anderson turned the old paper over to The Star.

The discovery of this old publication is especially important because it was a daily in 1894 when all the recorded newspapers were only weeklies, and the earliest previously-known daily was dated 1916.

Publisher of The Evening Reporter, a four-page three-column newspaper, was J. M. Ratliffe, doing business at 17 Main St. It had been entered at Hope Post Office May 8, 1894, which accounts for the Volume 1, No. 183 in the folio on Page One in the photograph. The paper sold for 1c a copy or 25c a month.

Among the advertisements on other pages appeared those of Goff's General Store; T. C. Jobe, attorney and real estate agent; F. W. Smith's Livery Stable; the Racket Store, Smith & Meazie, Proprietors; S. W. White, Jeweler; and the Hope Institute, a Co-Educational School operated by Miss E. H. Turpin, principal; and Prof. W. N. Atkins, assistant.

The Star has photographed all four pages, so the old paper may be reprinted in its entirety at a later date.

The Bulldogs, a tight defensive outfit, polished off Auburn, 51-48, Saturday night for No. 10, while Ohio State, No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, opened defense of its Big Ten title by sailing past Northwestern, 85-62.

The Buckeyes can look to the future with a lot more confidence than Mississippi State. They didn't lose a game last season until they bumped against Cincinnati in the final of the NCAA tournament.

Cincinnati (11-1) has a big one on tap Wednesday night against Bradley, its top rival for the Missouri Valley Conference title. Bradley (6-2) is rolling with seven straight victories including last Saturday's 70-63 decision over Wichita, the only team that has beaten Cincinnati. The Bearcats meanwhile steamrolled Tulsa, 72-43.

Vanderbilt warms up to its task against Mississippi State tonight, when it meets Kentucky, No. 3 in the AP poll behind Ohio State and Cincinnati. Adolph Rupp's Wildcats (10-1) downed Georgia Tech Saturday, 89-70.

There were at least three other major upsets Saturday. In the biggest, Villanova, after running up a string of 13 victories without a defeat, fell before West Virginia, 88-82. Bob Thorn hit 29 points for the winners.

Kansas State (10-2, fourth-ranked in the country, and Duke 19-2, eighth-rated, also toppled. Colorado, which made good on 25 of 27 free throws, took the measure of K-State, 75-62, while North Carolina State nipped the Blue Devils, 61-60, on John Punger's last-second field goal.

Southern California (11-2, the class of the West Coast, cemented its No. 6 spot with a 79-52 victory over California. Duquesne (9-1, ranked No. 7, trounced St. Bonaventure, 73-52, while Bowling Green (10-2 No. 10, barely squeezed past Ohio University, 62-60, in a Mid-America Conference game.

Further back and virtually out of the winner's circle were such name players as U.S. Open champion Gene Littler (212, and the big money winners in golf last year, Arnold Palmer (214 and Gary Player (217).

Still finding the professional tournament jungle a rough place was 21-year-old Jack Nicklaus, who relinquished his national amateur crown for a crack at the play-for-money ranks.

Nicklaus, while not discouraged, made the final 18 holes with scores of 74-70-72-216. It took 218 to qualify for today's final round. Tournament officials announced there would be a sudden death playoff in the event of a tie.

TV Football Games Still With Us

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The news teams of each network have been called home for their annual get-togethers on camera. Each channel has had its opportunity to look back on 1961 and ahead at 1962. Filmed golf shows are gradually pushing live football games out of the weekend TV schedule.

Gradually, after the long, long holiday season—Thanksgiving to New Year's—television is getting back to normal, and high time.

Ed Sullivan, broadcasting a merry, uninhibited show from a Hollywood night club, seemed to have some trouble with his microphones Sunday night. Even Jimmy Durante's dulcet tones seemed to come from a great distance. But everybody, including Rosemary Clooney and Jimmy, seemed in high spirits and rare form.

Walt Disney's color version of "Hans Brinker or the Silver Skates" on NBC had some delightful authentic Dutch backgrounds, but the actors, apparently Swedish, sounded like uneasy amateurs performing in English for the first time.

Gene Sarazen's new "World of Golf" kicked off on CBS, following the rigid pattern that makes all filmed golf shows exactly alike. That means descriptions and diagrams of tough holes and a shot-by-shot description of the more interesting ones in a match. Apparently golf bugs like it that way.

NBC plans to do a series of weekly half-hour shows on Federal Communication Commission hearings on the state of television programming. The hearings start Jan. 23 and among the star witnesses for the defense of TV will

Youth Held in Slaying of Negro

PARKIT, Ark. (AP) — Charles Drew, 19, of Gary, Ind., has been held for Grand Jury action on a charge of first degree murder in the shooting death of a Negro man Dec. 22.

Deputy Prosecutor DeLoss McKnight said Drew and two other white teenagers, both minors, went to a Negro section the night of the shooting and Drew and the victim, Leo Smith, 42, of Parkit, got into an argument.

The other teenagers were cleared of any connection with the death, McKnight said.

Drew is free on bond and the Grand Jury is scheduled to take up his case in February, McKnight said.

L. A. Play Is All Set for Showdown

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 36th chapter of the Los Angeles Open reached the showdown stage today with a wide open struggle in prospect for the winning share of the $45,000 purse.

Three previously unheralded professional golfers dominated the picture for the final 18 holes and the $7,500 top money.

They were Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., and cocky young Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., deadlocked for the lead with 54-hole scores of 206 — and heftily Lionel Hebert, former national PGA champion and brother of Jay, another ex-PGA king.

Ohio State, Mississippi State Tops

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State and Mississippi State ruled the roost today as the only two undefeated major college basketball teams in the country—but there may be trouble ahead for the Bulldogs from the Southeastern Conference.

Ohio State (11-0) has only one game on tap this week, against Michigan on Saturday. Mississippi State (10-0), the defending Southeastern champions, entertains Alabama Tuesday night and that should be no problem.

But on Saturday, State runs up against Vanderbilt on the Commodores' court and that's giving Coach Babe McCarthy and his crew some uneasy moments.

Vandy has only a 6-5 record, but around the conference Mississippi State is known as a pretty soft touch for the northern division teams in their own lair. Vanderbilt is in the northern division and, despite its mediocre record, has hopes of winning the title.

The Bulldogs, a tight defensive outfit, polished off Auburn, 51-48, Saturday night for No. 10, while Ohio State, No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, opened defense of its Big Ten title by sailing past Northwestern, 85-62.
